Dear Mr Leckey,

Please excuse the hand-written note.

I enclose a copy of the paper which I mentioned - which I have accepted for publication. It has yet to be put into my 'House Style'. Prof Azeff has kindly agreed to write the editorial - I will send you a copy of the issue when it appears (6 months approx)

The Bristol story is one with which I am only too familiar - it is very complex indeed from the political & medico-legal points of view. If you are interested I can give you the details - nothing to do with detained hyponatraemia!

Kindest regards
