The Deposition of IVOR MITCHELL

of [REDACTED] (Address)
who being sworn upon his _____ oath, saith

When Conor was in the side ward and having a seizure, I queried Dr Murdoch if he was confident that the amount of fluid being used for Conor's rehydration was accurate. He assured me that he had contacted one of his colleagues and he was confident that the dosage was okay. He said that he had been most careful because a child had been overdosed with disastrous results, at Altnagelvin Hospital. Shortly after this my wife exclaimed that Conor had stopped breathing. Some short difficulty was experienced in getting a working oxygen mask after which Conor was ventilated manually.
