

Health systems in transition NI report 2000

Fig. 2.1 Organizational structure of the health service manage staff and services and control their own budgets. Seven of these are acute hospital trusts, six community trusts and five integrated acute and community trusts. There is also a trust for the Northern Ireland ambulance service.