This document is intended to provide guidance to appraisers on what they should be considering when reviewing a doctor's Continuing Professional Development (CPD) activity, and guidance to doctors on the things that they should expect to be discussed during an effective appraisal meeting. It will help doctors and their appraisers to structure the supporting information and the appraisal discussion in a way that allows a proper evaluation of a doctor's learning since the previous appraisal, and supports the development of the subsequent personal development plan (PDP)
