Clare,

Anything new today?

We're still looking for statement from Minister, also the terms of reference for the inquiry.

Also, specific question:

When does the minister intend meeting with the three mothers of the children involved?

Trevor, here's the line.

The Police investigation is more narrow than ours - theirs concentrates on criminal matters. We are looking at the totality of issues, for example, the complaint's procedure and information given to the families. John O'Hara is aware of the above issues and is happy to proceed with the
