Marie

As a follow up to our conversation this morning, we would suggest the following amendment to the last line:

' The Chief Medical Officer's working group was established to prepare guidance on the prevention of hyponatraemia and not to consider the case of any specific child or children'

Colm - Re email below from Trevor Birney. Dr Nesbitt has now provided me with the attached which he wants me to forward to Trevor as his response. It raises serious issues I think.

Your urgent advice on how to proceed would be appreciated.

Marie,

As you know, we're still working on a programme examining the deaths of Lucy Crawford and Raychel Ferguson.

In terms of the death of Raychel, in a meeting I had with Geoff Nesbitt last year he spoke of his concern at the RVHSC not disseminating information relating to the death of Adam Strain in 1996.

Can you ask Geoff when exactly did he find out about the death of Adam?

When did he first speak to the CMO about his concerns?

When did Geoff discover that another healthy child, Lucy Crawford, had died at the Erne Hospital 14-months previous to the death of Raychel?

How many deaths did the Working Group, set up by the CMO, examine?

Best wishes,
Trevor.
