

Making Northern Ireland Safer For Everyone Through Professional, Progressive Policing

Dr Edward Sumner MA, BM, BCh, FRCA
Consultant Paediatric Anaesthetist

23 July 2005

Dear Dr Sumner

Re Raychel Ferguson

Thank you for agreeing to review the circumstances surrounding the death of Raychel and to prepare a report for the PSNI.

Following ongoing concern over the death of Raychel and other children in Northern Ireland police have decided to investigate the circumstances of Raychel's death. This may involve interviewing all the doctors involved in her treatment. It would therefore assist the PSNI if you consider and advise us on the roles played by each doctor in Raychel's treatment so that we may establish who may be interviewed as witnesses or advised to seek the advice of a solicitor before interview.

We have obtained a copy of your report to the Coroner, Mr Leckey, for the Inquest on Raychel and it is therefore not necessary for you to repeat the contents of that report.

I provide the following documents for your consideration. They have been obtained from the Coroner's file and were numbered by police in the original copy file. While the numbering of the pages as provided to you is not consecutive, it is adequate for referral purposes and therefore I have not sought to alter it. If a page contains two numbers (as in the hospital notes), the police number is the stamped number and not the handwritten number:

1. Verdict on Inquest, pp1, 2.
2. Autopsy Report, pp 5-10.
3. Report of Dr Jenkins, pp11-12.

If there are any documents not provided which you believe may exist and would be of benefit to you, please inform me and I will endeavour to obtain them.

If you could advise me when your deliberations on these documents are complete and you are in a position to write a report, we could agree the most expeditious means to proceed. This death is the subject of a Public Inquiry, whose proceedings may be impeded by the police investigation, and therefore there is a burden on the PSNI to proceed expeditiously.

If I can be of any assistance please contact me at the telephone number or email address on this letter, or on [REDACTED]

Yours sincerely,

William R Cross
