22nd August 2005

Dear Peter,

First of all, I understand that the report from Dr Maconochie should be available any day.

Dr Bob Bingham who prepared the first report (a copy of which <sup>(you sent me)</sup> you telephoned me on Friday last to mention a very important article that had just been published in relation to the development of hyponatraemia in hospitalised children. He advised me that he regards this as a most important contribution to this area of medicine. Perhaps you would be kind enough to draw it to the attention of the relevant staff in the Royal Belfast Hospital for Sick Children. I have sent a copy to Dr Ian Carson and to Dr John Jenkins.

With kind regards.

Yours sincerely
