

FURTHER SUPPLEMENTAL BRIEF FOR EXPERTS ON PAEDIATRIC SURGERY

ADAM STRAIN

Introduction

1. Thank you for your previous reports in respect of Adam Strain. The Inquiry Team would be grateful for your comment on opinion on the following issues:

Ligation of the left internal jugular vein

2. It has been suggested that a contributor to Adam's fatal cerebral oedema may have been obstruction to venous drainage from the brain. This is based on the following:

- (1) The central venous cannula inserted into the right subclavian vein at induction for his transplant was situated in the right internal jugular vein and may have been obstructed, giving unusually high CVP readings.

- (2) Dr Alison Armour, the pathologist who conducted Adam's autopsy, stated in her report that "there was a suture in situ on the left side of the neck at the junction of the internal jugular vein and the subclavian vein" and "there was no evidence of congestion or obstruction of the major blood vessels or the carotid arteries or jugular veins". (Ref: 059-039-089) She stands by that view in her Inquiry Witness Statement (Ref: WS-012-01, p.2).

3. The Trust has stated that:

"there is [...] no evidence the IJV [internal jugular vein] was ligated in RBHSC. The commentary section of the post mortem report is the only place where it is stated that the IJV is ligated. Ligation is not mentioned in the section on internal examination of the neck." (INQ-0176-10, also INQ-131-05 – letter dated 26th April 2005)

4. In addition, the Trust has stated that:

"... in the 1980s and early 1990s it would have been considered standard practice in RBHSC to ligate the internal jugular vein during insertion of a Broviac or Hickman central venous catheter. In the early 1990s a new technique was introduced whereby the common facial vein was used in order to preserve the patency of the IJV. The typed theatre note of 29/5/92 clearly states that the common facial vein was used, thereby by definition preserving the left IJV. [...] The removal of the [Broviac] line is a relatively simple procedure which would not have required exploration of the neck. The Broviac line is removed by traction at the exit site (in this case left anterior chest wall.) The anaesthetic record (057-077) shows total anaesthetic time of 20 minutes. This would not allow time for an unrecorded surgical exploration of the neck with ligation of the IJV.”

(INQ-0176-10)

5. Please find attached a schedule of Adam’s surgical procedures. As a guide, your attention is drawn to the following operations involving the insertion of a central and/or Broviac line:

Requirements

6. The Inquiry team would like you to examine Adam’s schedule of surgical procedures, and the relevant notes and records if necessary, and comment on whether there was any previous occasion during which a suture was likely to have been placed in Adam’s left internal jugular vein.
7. In particular, the Inquiry would like you to address the following queries, having regard to Adam’s previous surgical procedures:
- (1) Why Dr. Armour might have seen “a suture in situ on the left side of the neck at the junction of the internal jugular vein and the subclavian vein” and when it was likely to have been placed.
 - (2) In the light of the note of the procedure on 29th May 1992 and the witness statements of those involved in it (McCallion (WS-232/1), Brown (WS-007/4) and Stewart (WS-228/1), how likely it was that a mistake could have been made between the left common facial vein and the left internal jugular vein.

EXPERTS

(3) How likely it would be that the suture referred to in the note of the procedure on 1992, the left common facial vein is noted as being ligated with "5 x 0 PDS", would still be in existence in November 1995?

(4) Dr Mary O'Connor in her witness statement to the Inquiry (WS-014-1 Answer to Q2) states:

"I assumed that [Adam] may have had one of his external jugular veins tied off as this was common practice at the time of insertion of central lines in RBHSC in 1995."

Was it common practice in 1995 when central lines were being inserted for one of the external jugular veins to be tied off?

8. The Inquiry team would like you to examine Adam's medical notes and records and consider:

(1) What, if anything, would have been of:

(i) relevance and/or

(ii) necessity

for Mr Keane to have seen before commencing his surgery

(2) Please provide a full explanation to your answer at (1) above

Attached documents

9. The following documents are attached for your assistance:

(1) Adam's schedule of surgical procedures and admissions

(2) Adam's medical notes and records (Files 49-58)

Conclusion

10. It is of fundamental importance that the Inquiry receives a clear and reasoned opinion on these issues.

11. Your assistance on the Inquiry's requirements should be provided in the form of an Expert's Report (please reference if necessary).
