Dear Madam

RE: INQUIRY INTO HYPONATRAEMIA RELATED DEATHS

I refer to letter dated 11th August 2011 (BC-0048-11.)

The Trust has confirmed that the site layout has not changed substantially since 1995 and the circa 1993 site maps are still current. Musgrave Ward has only had minor alterations to provide ensuite facilities in side wards. The theatres and PICU have not been used for clinical purposes since the new hospital opened in 1999 and are only used as storage areas or offices. One doorway which provided staff access from theatre to PICU (and the blood gas analyser) has been boarded up, however access can be obtained to either side of the boarding via theatre main entrance or PICU main entrance.

In relation to your email of 1st September, the Trust would have no objection to photographs being taken during the visit on 22nd September.

Yours faithfully

Nicola Dooley
