I am the Lead clinician of the paediatric Emergency department of the Royal Belfast Hospital for Sick Children since 2001.

We are a team of 4 full- time paediatric emergency Consultants, covering the only paediatric Emergency department in Northern Ireland. 34.000 children attend the department every year.

Emergencies of any kind are seen in the department. About 70% of our workload are medical emergencies.

The RBHSC is the only paediatric hospital in Northern Ireland and the only provider of tertiary care for highly specialist areas like paediatric intensive care, paediatric cardiology, paediatric neurology, paediatric nephrology.

Children are usually seen in our department first where the decision is made to allow the child home or admit the child for further treatment and investigations.

In 1996 I worked as a Senior Registrar in Musgrave ward of the RBHSC, covering general medical patients, paediatric nephrology and respiratory patients.
